New York, Dec. 1 .- Prof. Leslie J. Tompkins of New York university, president of the National Association of College Graduates, is authority for the statement that the college woman has not made good." He had the courage, too, to make the statement in a lecture before the National League for the Civic Education of Women. He said:

"The college woman has not made good. There are, I think, about 12,-000 or 15,000 college women in the United States. Three-fourths of these are so nice that they are married al-ready and the remainder are freaks. The married women don't take so much interest in outside affairs and freaks cannot accomplish anything approach.

Discussing the question of woman suffrage, he said:
"Some women do not realize how very powerful is their influence without the ballot. Isn't this indirect influence worth more to you women than the very uncertain power that would come with the ballot that you are ill-prepared for? I mean ill-prepared in the sense with the ballot that you are ill-prepared for? I mean ill-prepared in the sense that the vast majority of women have small comprehension of the functions of government. I'll admit that about 40 per cent of the men who vote are not fitted to the franchise. I'll admit also that I will have no special objection to the votes of women when women as a body are as well qualified to vote as are 60 per cent of the men. But that time has not yet come."

enabled Ottmar Mergenthaler to perfect the machine that bears the latter's name. The idea for the machine was furnished by Mr. Clephane.

Mr. Clephane was born in Washing-ton. He became interested in the de-yelopment of the typewriter while sec-retary to Secy. of State Seward. His exceptional ability brought him early in close contact with Predictor Paylor. in close contact with President Buchan-an, President Lincoln and other noted men who became his personal friends. He was associated through them with many of the most stirring events of the Civil war period.

One of the earliest successful type-writers was built under his direction for the use of his employer. The type-writer suggested to him the possibility of a type-setting machine. The development of such a machine was accomplished only after a terrific strug-gle, the burden of which fell heavily upon Mr. Clephane's shoulders. He never lost his confidence in the value of the device and it was largely due to his courage and patience in overcoming skepticism and financial embarrassment that success finally came.

Chicago, Dec. 1.-General reductions for the rates of upper Pullman berths and in certain instances for lower berths was announced today before Commissioners Franklin K. Lane and E. E. Clark of the interstate commerce commission, by G. S. Fernald, of the Pullman company. No testimony in the cases before the commission was taken. The reduction in upper berth rates offered is 20 per cent where the lower berth rate exceeds $1.50. Various reductions are announced for the rates on lower berths in specific instances. "We have not prepared all our tables establishing the new rates," explained Mr. Fernald, "but we are working on them. We decided that although the upper berths cost more to build, furnish and maintain than the lowers," public discrimination against the uppers required a reduction in their price. Where the lower berth is rated at $1.50, the upper would be $1.25 and in all instances other than this the upper will cost $0 per cent of the lower.

English Conservatives Trying to Unload It, With What Effect Will be Uncertain.

FOR UPPERS 20 PER CENT OFF | BALFOUR MAKES BOLD STROKE

Liberals Not Discouraged by His Proposition to Submit Question To Referendum.

London, Dec. 1.-The ultimate effeet of the opposition's attempt to unload the tariff reform issue for the purpose of the present campaign is still in doubt. While the Unionists were greatly encouraged by Mr. Balfour's sudden and surprising announcement that he would not object to the submission of the question to a referendum, the leader's bold stroke has far from disheartened the Liberals, who find therein good ammunition and are accusing their opponents of changing their policy daily in a desperate effort to catch votes and so secure power at any cost.

Moreover, the more ardent tariff reformers who yesterday congratulated Mr. Balfour on his skilful maneuvering were not so ready today to endorse his pledge.

Speaking at Manchester, Andrew Bonarlaw, Unionist member for Dulwich division of Camberwell, refused "to eat my words," adding that if the Unionists obtained an adequate majority at the polls they would be found to enact a tariff reform measure. The first members returned to the new parliament will be Unionists. In many constituencies nominations will be made tomorrow and in at least nine instances there will be no contests. These include the city of London seats and those held by Joseph Birmingham and George Wyndham of Dover. The weather for the campaign scarcely could be worse. Outdoor meetings planned at many places have been abandoned. The house to house canvassing, however, continues and there is no let up in the usual in-door demonstrations.
